Lunning.Wende.BVH Architects. Lunning Wende/BVH Architects is a design and planning practice committed to helping clients accomplish their missions through innovative solutions. By engaging people in an interactive process to develop solutions, we reveal unique opportunities presented by each project. Shared decision-making and open communications – coupled with our real world experience of implementing real plans – help us develop inventive yet workable solutions, which are both cost effective and durable.

At Lunning.Wende/BVH Architects, designs grow from the cultures of our clients and from the geographical character of each site. Each project evolves as a distinct expression of our clients' values and of our interest in the human experience. We endeavor to improve the quality of people's daily lives while respecting and preserving the natural and built environment.

Our interdisciplinary team of 60 architects, interior designers, planners, and urban designers builds upon a tradition of design excellence. Over the past twenty years we have gained a reputation for thoughtful and high quality design projects. Our commitment to designing places that work as well as they look has been recognized with over 150 awards and citations on the local, regional and national level.
